EASTERN DATES TO OCTOBER 8.

EASTERN STATES.

Election in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—The 11th ward gives Buckalew 3,550 majority. The Democrats generally redeem the Republican majority in the city to be nearly 20,000.

Further About the Election.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8—10:30 P. M.—Private dispatches from reliable sources indicate that Hartranft is elected in Pennsylvania by from twenty to thirty thousand, and Ohio is Republican by ten to fifteen thousand majority.

Returns from Indiana are few, but favorable for the Republicans.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Midnight returns from Indiana come very slowly, and, so far are favorable to Democrats. There is very little from Ohio.

The Cincinnati Enquirer claims a Democratic majority for Hamilton county of 5,000.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Private dispatches from Indianapolis, 9 P. M., say until the vote is counted, the result in this State is mere guess work, on account of the extraordinary large vote polled, and the extreme length of the ticket, which contains one hundred and forty names. The work of counting is so slow that it will take all night to count the vote.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—The League House was packed this evening with a dense mass of humanity. Returns from the city and State were displayed upon large transparencies to the crowds in the street. At 11 o'clock calls were made for Gen. Hartranft. In response he came forward and thanked the people for what they had done for him and then retired.

Shoemaker Re-elected.

Shoemaker, Republican, is elected to Congress from the Twelfth District.

Returns from Ohio.

A dispatch from Columbus, Ohio, 8:40 P. M., says returns from about thirty towns in twelve counties, show a net Republican gain of seven hundred over the vote of 1870.

Republican Gains.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 8.—Returns continue to come in slowly. About thirty towns and townships have been heard from. Republican gains of 300 in Randolph county. Brown's majority is estimated as a gain of 500.

Changes Both Ways.

HARTFORD, Oct. 8.—Of 120 towns out of 168 towns in the State heard from, 58 show a Republican ticket. In 24, the officers are divided between the two parties. The Democrats gained eight towns, which were wholly Republican last year. The Republicans gained eight towns which were Democratic last year.

Republican Victory in Nebraska.

OMAHA, Oct. 8.—The election passed off quietly. A full vote was polled, and the Republican State and Congressional tickets are elected by about five thousand. This county, which may be considered a Liberal stronghold, gives a Republican majority of 100.

Republican Gains in Newark.

Golden Hind Disaster.

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—A letter received here states that the ship Golden Hind of this city was lost on June 24th, about ten miles north of Cape Gloucester, Charles Island. The crew took boats in charge of the captain and second mate. The boat in charge of the second mate, with six seamen, has not been heard from since. It is supposed they were swamped soon after leaving the vessel. The captain's boat capsized, and the compass and all the provisions and clothing were lost. They finally landed on a desolate island, where five of the crew died from starvation. The remainder were rescued August 12th, by the schooner Eagle of Falkland Islands. When taken off they were hardly able to stand.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN STATES.

Election Returns.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 9.—A Gazette Indianapolis special says 171 townships gave a net Republican gain of 1,723.

CHICAGO, 2 P. M., Oct. 9.—The press dispatches from Indiana give only scattering returns from townships, and partial returns from counties in various parts of the State, showing alternate Republican and Democratic gains, though the former appear to preponderate.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The Tribune says: We have been cheated out of Pennsylvania; have made some gains in Ohio, but not enough to carry the State, and we have nothing discouraging from Indiana.

A special to the Sun says the Republicans gain a Congressman in the 6th and 21st districts, and one State Senator and two Representatives in Pennsylvania.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—The Times says the results of the elections yesterday may be summarized by stating that the Republicans have carried Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Nebraska. It adds: "Greeley's defeat is doubly assured."

Special dispatches received here add nothing to the facts already telegraphed with regard to the elections yesterday. The Tribune concedes Pennsylvania and Ohio to the Republicans. It claims Indiana which is doubtful.

There was much interest manifested here to learn the results of the elections, and large crowds are gathered about the newspaper offices and political headquarters, where returns are bulletined.

Figures from Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9.—The total Hartranft majority in Philadelphia is 15,000, with two wards to hear from, which last year gave 1,094 Democratic majority. The Third Ward of this city gives Buckalew 47% majority. Twenty-fifth Ward gave him 629. Total majorities in the city foot up as follows: Hartranft, 19,209; Buckalew, 4,360. Hartranft's majority is 15,883.

They Give It Up.

As many as 35,000 persons were present at the Union League house last night to hear the news of the election. McClure and the Liberals gave up the fight at 8 o'clock, as they saw that the Republican majority in this city amounted to more than they could hope to overcome by the total Buckalew majority in outside counties. The crowds in the streets are enthusiastic.

At half-past eleven, McClure and Forney conceded 15,000 to Hartranft. Special dispatches indicate the majority for Hartranft in the State at 15,000 to 25,000. Returns are greeted in this city with great interest. In the evening, crowds assembled at the political headquarters and hotels to hear the returns.

Ohio.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 9.—The State Republican Committee claim they have carried Ohio by 15,000 to 18,000. The Democratic Committee concedes between 10,000 and 15,000 to the Republicans. The Republican Committee also claim to have elected twelve Congressmen certain, and more than a fair probability of two more. This gives the Democrats seven Congressmen,—a gain of two in Hamilton county. The Democrats do not concede the 6th and 10th District, but Foster, of the 10th telegraphs to his friends that he is surely elected by over 5,000 majority. This is the first time the Republicans have ever carried Ohio without the aid of Hamilton county.

The Great O'Conor Again.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The Herald's Richmond dispatch has a letter from O'Conor to James Lyons of that city, dated September 30th in which O'Conor says he has not indicated any alteration in his resolve not to be a candidate, as set forth in his communication to the Louisville Convention. He adds: "It may be true, as you suggest, that the people will not vote for any man who will not announce in a public manner that if elected he will serve; if so, they will never vote for me. I should regard such announcement as one mode of soliciting their support. If the Southern people did not know before I said anything on the subject that one of the candidates is a man of transcendent ability they are singularly slow of apprehension. The desolation of which they complain is attributable to him. The long and disastrous war that followed his bloody chasm with fratricidal slaughter involving the whole country in debt and demoralization is due to his unequalled energy."

UTAH.

From Salt Lake.

SALT LAKE, Oct. 9.—The Mormon Conference is still in session. The attendance is large. Brigham Young, Jr., spoke. He predicted that the growing habits of young men would eventually result in their leaving the church. Apostle Smith spoke endorsing Celestial marriage. Brigham Young, Jr., was elected prophet, seer and revelator unanimously. Other officers of the church generally were re-elected. Thirteen missionaries were appointed for Europe and Ireland. Brigham urged the necessity of tithing, or the Lord would abandon the people.

The Grand Lodge of Masons has not yet adjourned.

The results of the election are generally hailed with pleasure by the Gentiles.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—The corner stone for the University of California, at Berkley, near Oakland, was laid this afternoon with appropriate ceremonies, under the supervision of Governor Booth, President of the Board of Regents. A prayer was offered by Rt. Rev. William Ingraham. There was music by the band and an address delivered by Rev. Horatio Stebbins, after which those present partook of a collation.

The latest sensation in the show line here is a man who handles red hot irons as if they were wood, and swallows heated alcohol as if it were milk.

Generally members of the bar and other personal friends of the deceased will go to Sacramento to attend the funeral of Cofroth.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

FOREST HILL, Oct. 9.—The public school house and one dwelling were burned at this place this afternoon.

MISSION SAN JOSE, Oct. 9.—Owing to the large amount of grain being received daily at Warm Springs Landing, the proprietors are compelled to erect another large grain storehouse. They have now on hand over 4,000 tons.

OROVILLE, Oct. 9.—The Republicans are out in full force to-night, firing cannon and rejoicing in honor of Republican victories in the East.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Smallpox—Miscellaneous.

OREGON LEGISLATURE.

Seventh Biennial Session.

Senate.

MORNING SESSION.

SALEM, Oct. 9, 1872.

Senate met at the usual hour, with President Fay in the Chair.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Walter of Salem.

The Journal of yesterday was read and approved.

An invitation was received from the Willamette University, inviting the Senators to visit that institution next Friday.

On motion of Mr. Cornelius the invitation was accepted.

Mr. Watson presented a petition from the citizens of Coos county, asking aid in the construction of a railroad from Coquille river to Co.s Bay, a distance of twelve miles. Referred to the Committee on Railroads.

Mr. Patterson, from the Joint Committee, appointed to examine the accounts of the Penitentiary Building Commission, and also those of the Superintendent of the same, reported as follows:

Your Committee having secured the services of Mr. H. M. DeFrance, President of the Commercial College in Portland, a competent book-keeper, as clerk, proceeded to give the books, expenditures and accounts of the Commission and Superintendent a thorough and complete examination.

The report of Mr. DeFrance on the correctness of the vouchers issued and the receipts for money expended agreeing with the books kept, is herein appended.

Your committee have personally examined: First, the outlay and expenditure of the [illegible] thousand dollars appropriated by the last Legislative Assembly for the construction of permanent Penitentiary buildings, and find that they have been characterized by carefulness and exactness.

2d. That the Superintendent of the Penitentiary has furnished the Commission, as per printed reports, materials, cash and convict labor to the amount of $58,015 50, all of which has been appropriately and advantageously used.

3d. Your committee has particularly examined all the outstanding indebtedness of the Building Commission, which we find to be the sum of $61,675 65, as per page 120 of printed report, for which there have been issued vouchers No. 1 to 46 inclusive. The prices paid for each article of merchandise or labor have been the subject of critical examination, and we find them to be the lowest market rates for the quality of goods purchased or labor performed, and that the purchases have been made with a view of saving to the State as much as possible; that a large portion of the same articles could not be purchased to-day without a material advance upon the prices paid.

These outstanding vouchers we would report as correctly correct in each and every item of the amount charged, and would recommend their payment, together with such legal interest as would be due thereon, had State warrants been issued instead of vouchers; and that such appropriate legislation be had as may be necessary to effect this purpose.

We have also examined in the same manner the books, papers and accounts of the Superintendent of the Penitentiary, and find that vouchers and receipts are duly filed, and all the expenditures have been made economically and with due regard to the interests of the State. That the deficiency in this department amounts to $16,047 29, as per page 41 printed report, which amount we recommend be paid.

Respectfully submitted.

A. W. PATTERSON,
J. STRAHN,
J. W. COWLES,

Mr. Patterson, from the Committee on Public Buildings, reported back H. B. No. 21, with recommendation that it pass.

Mr. Delph, from the select committee to whom was referred H. B. No. 8, reported the bill back with amendments, and recommended its passage.

Mr. Crawford introduced S. B. No. 76, to provide for the payment of the expenses of the Commissioners from this State to prepare for the Centennial Anniversary of American Independence—expenses not to exceed $7,000 annually. Read first time and ordered printed.

Mr. Watson introduced S. B. No. 77, to appropriate proceeds of sale of swamp lands in Coos county to internal improvements in said county. Read first time and ordered printed.

Mr. Monroe introduced S. B. No. 78, to amend an act regulating pay of officers in certain counties. Read first time.

S. B. No. 24, relating to the taxing of foreign incorporations, was read a third time and passed.

S. J. R. No. 18 was read, amendments adopted, and finally passed.

S. B. No. 41, authorizing the State Treasurer to convert currency into coin and pay off Lock and Canal bonds. On motion of Mr. Dolph the bill was referred to the Committee of the Whole Senate.

S. B. No. 26, to amend an act to appropriate funds for the construction of locks and canal, came up, with amendment; amendments adopted, and the bill ordered engrossed for a third reading to-morrow.

H. B. No. 3, repealing Portland Police Law, passed at the last session, came up, and Mr. Fay offered an amendment, striking out that part of the bill which prevents the Governor from appointing Police Commissioners and empowering the Common Council of Portland to make such appointment.

Mr. Delph spoke in opposition to the amendment. He said the Portland Police Bill passed at the last session was an outrage upon the people of that city, and a large majority of the people of all parties demanded its repeal.

Mr. Fay said the good government of Portland seemed to require the continuance of the present law, and he was opposed to changing it. Portland has been better governed under the operation of the present law than ever before.

Motion to adjourn lost. Ayes, 10; noes, 11.

The question being on the amendment proposed by Mr. Fay, the amendment was lost. Ayes, 7; noes, 13.

Mr. Ray moved a reference of the bill to a committee of three. Lost. Ayes, 10; noes, 12.

So the amendment proposed by the Committee was adopted. Ayes, 16; noes, 6.

The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 10, 1872.

The Eastern Elections.

The additional returns of the elections in the East which we are able to present to-day, though meagre, confirm the good news of Tuesday. The majority in Pennsylvania, though probably slightly below the first estimates, is nevertheless much greater than at the last election. Ohio goes Republican by from ten to fifteen thousand. At the corresponding election in 1868, the Republican majority was 17,383, and in the Presidential election which took place immediately afterwards the Republican majority was 41,428. Hamilton county, embracing the city of Cincinnati, has gone largely Democratic. This accounts for the majority in the State being relatively smaller than in Pennsylvania.

Indiana is close, but almost certainly Republican. Nebraska gives 5,000 Republican majority, against 2,478 in the gubernatorial election of 1870, and 2,491 in that immediately preceding the Presidential election of 1868.

Our Common Schools.

The common school system of Oregon deserves the attention of the Legislature. It has many defects which could be remedied without making such innovations as would disturb its harmonious action. Great changes in the fundamental plan upon which our common schools are based, would probably be unwise, unless effected gradually. The sudden overthrow of old forms and methods to make way for the establishment of new and better ones, often results in evils that outweigh the improvement. This is especially the case when, as in our school system, the matter is one which is not left in the hands of persons qualified to inaugurate and carry out the change, by a course of training directed especially to that point. The faculty of an institution of learning will hesitate long before attempting to introduce into the institution new methods of instruction, even though they may be fully convinced that the change would be desirable, regarding the mere fact of a change and the consequent breaking up of settled habits of thought and action as necessarily injurious. But this is comparatively a small matter, when contrasted with a similar change in the entire educational system of the country, and when it is further considered that the common school system is, except at a few metropolitan centers, in the hands of persons who are not professional educators. To make any very radical and sudden change in the school system of the State would take away, for some time, the greater portion of whatever vitality and efficiency the system possesses. That a thorough reconstruction of the entire common school establishment is needed and must come, we have no doubt; but that the desired revolution should be attempted or could be reached, by a single act of legislation we consider more than doubtful.

These remarks have been suggested by a draft of a bill to be presented to the Legislature, which has been presented to us by a gentleman whose opinions upon all matters connected with the educational interests of the State we esteem very highly. The main feature of the bill is, that it provides for the compulsory attendance at school of all the children of the State for six months in every year, with taxation to support the schools. The principle of compulsory education is growing in favor in the United States, and in all probability will, in the course of time, become the basis of our system of public schools. But its practicable and successful application presupposes a dense population and very different ideas of education from those that now prevail in Oregon. An act of this character, if passed at the present session of the Legislature, would be most likely to prove a dead letter on the statute book, or else its enforcement would arouse such opposition in many sections of the country as would produce its repeal at the next session. One of the best things General Grant ever said, was his aphorism that the surest means of securing the repeal of a bad law was its rigid enforcement. And it is equally a sure means of securing the repeal of a good law, if the people consider it a bad one. No school law that effects a radical change in the system of common schools could get fully into operation in a shorter time than two years; but in the meantime, while the reconstruction was being effected, the law would be subjected to the severest trial possible, so far as relates to the question of its favorable reception among the people. With the prejudices of a large minority, if not a majority of the community arrayed against it, and the defective execution which would be inevitable during its experimental stage, such a law could scarcely be expected to survive the next biennial session of the Legislature after its enactment. The end would be, that after two years of tossing about in opposing gales of popular sentiment, the whole reform movement would receive its coup de grace, leaving the educational system of the State in a worse condition than at present. These are our views of the matter. They may be incorrect. If they are, discussion will show them to be so, and will develop the better way. The subject is one which deserves greater attention than it has received at the hands of those who are generally expected to interest themselves on all public affairs.

The present school law is miserably defective in its provisions for the election of district officers. It prescribes the day upon which the annual meeting of the electors for the purpose of such election, shall be held, and the qualification of voters, but provides nothing as to the time of opening or closing the polls, or the manner of voting. This may answer well enough in country districts where the number of voters is very small, and the district offices are not sought after; but in the towns, the election is a mere farce. In the city of Portland the annual meeting for the choice of School Directors and Clerk is simply a mob. Not one-half the qualified voters of the District cast their votes, and nearly one-half of all who do vote are not qualified. This will be the case so long as the hour of meeting is left in the hands of the officers calling it, and the manner of voting left subject to the determination of the meeting. At every yearly meeting there is a disgusting scramble for the possession of the voting place, it being well-known that the crowd that can get to the place and fill up the house first will have the entire proceedings their own way. Rules are adopted by the crowd that get possession of the house, for conducting the election in such a way which will be likely to produce just the result which the managers desire. At this step of the proceedings, ordinarily, a large proportion of the party who were worsted in the preliminary squabble, leave in disgust, and the election proceeds not only peaceably, but, of course, in the utmost harmony. This is not the picture of one single election, nor of the sins of one particular party or clan. It is the annual performance, and the parties who engage in it are of all possible complexions politically. The fault is in the law, not in the people—or better, the law allows the people to do these things.

The law ought to be so amended as to fix the hour of opening the polls and the length of time they should be kept open, and prescribe the manner of voting, so that persons who desire to vote might go and cast their votes and return to their homes, as they do in other elections. This would make it necessary to provide some means of settling questions of the rate of taxation, and other matters which are now determined at the annual meeting. The questions whether the school should be supported by taxation, and as to proposed improvements in the school building, &c., could be submitted to the voters in the form of distinct propositions to be voted on at the same time with the election of the district officers, leaving the details of the plan of carrying out the will of the voters as then expressed, to the Directors, into whose hands they fall naturally for all practicable purposes. We believe we speak the sentiments of nearly every person who has witnessed the operation of the present law in Portland, when we say that some such change is greatly needed.

Services Rendered.

Those who are opposed to the re-election of Hon. S. Garfielde as Delegate in Congress from Washington Territory, are continually harping upon what Mr. Garfielde has not done. Now, it is a well established principle of law that a man shall not be required to prove a negative. A defendant is not required to prove anything. The plaintiff or aggressor must prove his own cause, while the defendant may stand mute and win his cause. Upon this theory Mr. Garfielde might well stand still and challenge his opponents to prove his failures. As a matter of course they could easily prove that he had not done this or the other, and think they had proven their case. But this course will not avail with thinking men, as they will at once see how flimsy the charge is. The true touchstone is just this: What has Mr. Garfielde failed to do that he might have done? Or (to put it in a still more favorable light for the Democracy), has Mr. Garfielde failed to do anything that some other man could, and would have done? Take any other number of years during which the Territory has been represented by some other man, and what has been done? Take the years 1862 to 1868 inclusive, what has been done? In what respect did the Territory make material progress? We do not now and here intend to charge either of the gentlemen who then represented the Territory with any delinquency, but we merely make the enquiry to show the inconsistency of making the charge.

It is only well known that a Delegate is a sort of claim agent or attorney. He can prepare his case and present it to the court, but with the decision he has nothing to do. He must ask for everything, and has nothing to give. But since Mr. Garfielde has represented the Territory he has at least succeeded in making the Territory known and respected. And in the running to and fro in attending to the thousand and one details of business which pertain and contribute to the welfare and convenience of his constituency, he has proven faithful to the last. He has doubled the appropriations for the survey of the public lands—and there and then he rendered a service that goes directly home to the masses of the people. But the Democracy will say, any one could have done that? Perhaps so. We know, however, that Garfielde did do that, and we do not know that any one else could or would have done it.

We have something more to say upon this point hereafter. At present we ask the people of Washington Territory to ask themselves what benefit they expect to resp from the change from Garfielde to McFadden? He (McFadden) would go to Washington an avowed enemy of the Administration of whom he proposes to ask favors. He would go inexperienced and wholly untried. He has no record of past services to point to. He would go as the elected representative of a party without an organization, without a name, without a head and without a purpose, save that of a frenzied and insane desire to get possession of a Government they have failed to destroy.

The Bulletin insists that its opposition to the State's getting the control of the Canal and Locks at the falls, is not in the interest of the owner of the railways and steamboats. But in its personal attack on Mr. Simpson for favoring such a measure, it lets out the secret when it says: "Simpson has always been most profuse in his professions of friendship, both personally and politically, for Mr. Holladay." We neither know, nor care to know, anything about Mr. Simpson's former relations to Mr. Holladay, but we quite agree with our neighbor that the placing of the Locks in the hands of the State, so that there could be no discrimination for or against any person or company in the passage of freights through them, might prove very detrimental to the present interests and future plans of Mr. Holladay. That gentleman has the freighting business of the entire Wallamet Valley in his own hands, and by securing the control of the Locks at the falls, can keep it in his own hands, at least for the twenty years provided in the famous Lock swindle of 1870.

The lawyers will hardly subscribe to the doctrine advanced in Mrs. Duniway's letter in this morning's paper, that it is treason—or any other crime, for that matter—for a person to adopt a rule of doing business for coin, and refuse to take Legal Tenders instead. How far the question of voter or no voter influences the conduct of persons in the transaction of ordinary business, is a matter "upon which Union men may honestly differ."

Rev. A. S. Nicholson, candidate for School Superintendent, on the Clarke county, W. T., Republican ticket, has withdrawn from the canvass. Various reasons have been assigned as actuating him to this step. The Republicans will doubtless supply his place on the ticket with a name which will at least bring as much strength to the ticket as the retiring candidate.

We received a telegram from Salem last night, stating that J. H. Lappens, with Senator Fay, of Jackson, had attacked Eugene Semple, State Printer, with pistols, and that Mr. Semple was seriously wounded. The difficulty is said to have arisen out of the Portland Police Bill.

We learn that ex-sheriff G. W. Durgin, of Clarke county, W. T., has declined the nomination for County Commissioner, in consequence of an intention to leave the county. The name of Mr. William Hendrickson has been mentioned in connection with supplying the vacancy.

THE TERRITORIES.

Parties in Olympia are burning a kiln containing 250,000 brick.

A kind of a Dorr rebellion on a small scale has broken out among the Creek nation in Indian Territory.

The Mormons of Utah have a considerable surplus of wheat this year, and have sent 500 car loads East.

The flouring mill at Tumwater, W. T., is now turning out 50 barrels of flour per day and has 4,000 bushels of new wheat on hand.

The rival Chinese Companies at Idaho City are reported as at swords' point, and it is thought that Mongolian blood will flow before the trouble is settled.

A literary and dramatic association at Tumwater must be considerable or a very presumptuous institution, as they propose to play King Henry the Eighth.

J. B. Thomas, a citizen of New York, died suddenly at Olympia last Monday morning of congestion of the lungs, and was buried by the Masonic fraternity.

Whatcom county, Washington Territory, lately held a County Fair at which the exhibition is said to have been quite creditable, especially of fruits and vegetables.

The land officers at Olympia have moved into new quarters in the building recently erected by General Stevens. The Western Union Telegraph office at the same place has been moved into the Olympia book store.

Twenty-four tons of anthracite coal from the Queen Charlotte Company's mine were sold in Victoria last Thursday, one half to the Port Madison Mill Co., and the other half to Mr. Joseph Spratt, for $22 per ton.

The Olympia Courier says: We learn that Mr. Garfielde addressed a large and enthusiastic audience at the Methodist Church in Kalama on Saturday night last. Republicans there are confident that he will run ahead of Judge McFadden two to one in Kalama.

A fair is now in progress at Olympia under the auspices of the Western Washington Industrial Association. It will last four days and wind up on the 14th with a grand ball in which all the lancers west of the Cascade mountains and between the Columbia river and the 49th parallel will take part.

Two boys at Olympia going home from a lecture the other night found what they thought a nice little poodle dog in the road, and thought they would steal it. After a little chasing one of them caught it, when it got angry, and by the explosions of a powerful odor informed the boys that they had mistaken its nature. It was a skunk. Next day the boys had suits of new clothes.

The Seattle Dispatch of the 4th instant says: "We are happy to say that further examination of the wreck of Stone & Burnett's warehouse, which fell into the bay yesterday, proves that the damage is not nearly as great as was at first supposed. The wreck of the building formed a raft which supported above water the greater amount of the goods in store, consisting mostly of flour, grain, feed, liquors, kerosene and the like, the greater portion of which has been recovered, but slightly damaged."

The Seattle Dispatch says: A responsible party now in Portland writes that he has a lot of first class machinery, consisting of a saw-mill, engine with a capacity to cut 50,000 feet of lumber a day; also all kinds of wood working machinery for the manufacture of sash, doors, blinds, mouldings, shingles, etc., consisting of heavy planers, matchers, moulders, mortices, re-saw, etc. This machinery was brought to Portland with the intention of engaging in business on the Columbia river, but on examination the owner prefers Puget Sound as more eligible. To make a success of the business he desires a partner with $20,000 each. Here is what we regard as a first class opportunity for the investment of capital in a paying business.

CITY.

UNFORTUNATE AFFAIR —A very sad shooting affair took place at Vancouver on Monday evening, resulting in the killing of the drummer boy of the post. It appears that the boy during Monday had indulged in drink freely and returned to the post intoxicated, for which he was placed in the guard house. About 5 o'clock in the evening the boy attempted to make his escape by flight. He reached the fence inclosing the guard house and sprang over it. The sentry placed to keep guard over the prisoners pursued the boy and commanded him to halt several times. This he failed to do and the sentry fired at him. The ball took effect in the back, killing the drummer instantly. After the occurrence the Sheriff proceeded to the fort with a warrant for the arrest of the soldier. When he made the demand for the prisoner at the headquarters of the commanding officer, he was informed he could not have him, although the man had been arrested. Subsequently he was released and went on duty, and was finally arrested the second time Tuesday morning. Gen Granger commanding the post at that place, came to this city on the Vancouver boat and proceeded to headquarters where the matter was laid before Gen. Canby commanding the Department of the Columbia, who declared that the civil courts within the Territory had no jurisdiction in the matter, and ordered Gen Granger to hold the prisoner until a writ was issued from the Supreme Court of the Territory or from the United States Court of the Second District. The General returned to Vancouver yesterday with his orders to that effect. The prisoner will, however, be tried by a Military Court Martial for murder.

ELOPEMENT —The wife of a well known citizen of Centerville, Washington county, lately became enamored of a man working in the neighborhood and told her husband that she intended to dissolve the matrimonial alliance and elope with her new found love. On Wednesday she put her threat in execution, taking her youngest child with her. When the merchants of Centerville heard that the pair had flown, they started after the man with sundry unpaid bills. A chum of the flying debtor informed them that the runaway had gone in the direction of Yamhill county, purposely, it is supposed, to put them off the track. Toward Yamhill these merchants sped, but while they were skirting the classic waters, the runaways were making tracks—or rather, the horses which they rode, were making tracks—toward the depot at Hillsboro, seeking to reach the Portland bound train, which they caught, and leaving their buggy, were borne with railroad speed toward this city. At the time of this writing they are supposed to be stopping at some of our hotels. A beautiful pair of birds they are, and both should be furnished lodging at the expense of the State.

THE FIRST STREET CARS —By the steamer John L Stephens there arrived two handsome street cars which will be used on the track now in process of construction along First street. These cars are very neatly built, and are from the manufactory of Kimball & Co., of San Francisco. They will answer the traveling requirements of this city for some years to come, and will be a great satisfaction in the manner of reaching remote sections of the city with rapidity and cheapness. A person can be conveyed from one limit of the city to the other for a few cents with the same celerity and comfort which a first class hack can afford, for about one-twelfth the price. These cars will combine the two great advantages of cheap and rapid transit—a most desirable point with the public. The two cars cost the company in the vicinity of $3,200. They combine all the latest and most improved styles of workmanship. Comfort, convenience and a degree of elegance, seemed to have been strictly observed in their construction.

CARGO LOST —A portion of the cargo of the bark Edward James which was taken from this port a few weeks ago, was lost at Seattle last Saturday. About 100 tons of flour and oats had been laid out on the wharf when the piling gave way under the great weight and precipitated the freight into the water. The flour will probably not sustain more than a loss of one per cent, while the oats can safely be estimated as a total loss. We are unable to state whether or not the cargo has been recovered yet. The freight on this vessel was ordered by Sound merchants through Messrs McCracken & Co., of this city, and the loss will probably fall on the consignees, unless the owners of the wharf are responsible men. The damages can not be recovered from the underwriters as the insurance covers only the perils at sea.

BOY HURT —The other day a small boy, whose name we are unable to give, was severely injured on Fourth street, a few blocks above the Court House. He was standing near the track which was being raised when the construction train came along. The men, to get out of the way of the cars, hastily dropped the heavy screws by which the track is elevated. It fell over and caught the little fellow. One of the pieces of timber struck him across the small of the back and hurt him severely. The boy was carried to his house partially unconscious, but is now so far recovered as to be able to walk around again.

FOR THE N. P. R. R —The bark Zonave, now at Astoria, has on board a cargo of railroad iron for the Northern Pacific Railroad. This iron came from New York, in conformity with the law of Congress, requiring all iron used in the construction of the road to be manufactured in the United States. She will proceed soon to Kalama and discharge her cargo. The Zouave is now drawing 22 feet of water. It is unascertained yet whether she will load at this port or not.

KICKED —One of the men connected with the circus, was kicked by a horse yesterday and severely hurt. Several persons were leading some horses out of a stable, when one of the animals kicked at another just behind. Instead, however, of striking the object of its anger, the flying heels struck the man in the lower part of the abdomen. He was removed to one of the hotels. The injuries are internal, and thought to be of a serious character.

FOR IMPRISONMENT —It appears after all that the man, Dr. Horton, is not in the penitentiary at Salt Lake for burglary. He was arrested a short time since charged with having been an accomplice in the breaking open of a safe. On the preliminary examination, however, he was discharged on the grounds of insufficiency of evidence. Horton is now in Denver City, Colorado.

RUDDER LOST.—The ship Zouave had a long and tedious voyage from New York to the mouth of the river. When off Cape Horn she encountered a very heavy, protracted gale, which unshipped her rudder. For the remainder of the passage she was compelled to steer by means of an improvised jury rudder, which served to render the voyage tedious and not unattended with danger.

TAKEN OFF.—The cover of the oistern at the intersection of Stark and First streets has been taken up to allow the street car track to be laid across it. The "tire iron," spoken of a few days since, which the company at first intended to use across the cistern coverings and thus not necessitate their removal, has we learn, been abandoned and the common "T" rails used.

COLLISION —A collision took place on the River side track during the races yesterday. The forewheel of one of the buggies collided with the hind wheel of another. The wheels were smashed and one of the drivers thrown out. He resolutely sang to the lines and at length checked the speed of the horses. No one injured, and the damage slight to both vehicles.

WILL RECEIVE WHEAT —The cargo of the Loch Dee is being discharged as rapidly as circumstances will allow. The freight will soon be taken from the forward part of the vessel and that portion loaded with wheat. This will prevent any inconvenience to the bark, for want of proper ballast as rapidly as cargo is taken from one part the wheat will be received.

TO RETURN —The Northern Pacific Railroad party are at present east of the mountains engaged in examining the character of that section of the country. They will return to this city to-morrow evening, having completed their tour of inspection, and will, we learn, take passage on the steamer John L. Stephens for San Francisco Saturday evening.

ON THE FOUNDATION —Work on the stone foundation of the new brick building of Capt Flanders, on the corner of C and First streets is nearly completed. The main building, however will not be commenced until next spring, the season being too far advanced to admit of its completion before the setting in of the winter rains.

NO QUORUM —The required quorum not being present last evening at the Common Council no business was transacted, and that body stands adjourned until next Wednesday.

COMPANY "L" —About 18 men arrived on the steamer belonging to Company "L" 1st United States Cavalry, under command of Lieutenant Moore. These men went over to Vancouver yesterday afternoon. They will proceed to Fort Lapwai in a few days, at which place they will be stationed for the present.

WILL SAIL —The bark Garibaldi will probably go down the river this evening bound for Hong Kong. Her cargo will consist of lumber and produce. About 200 Chinese passengers will also be on board. The bark Forward will be the next vessel placed on berth for the same destination.

BURIED —The remains of the late James S Allen were buried yesterday. A number of the friends of the deceased, and delegations from the several fire companies of the city, followed the body to its final resting place in the Catholic cemetery.

LOGS —The tug boat Marie Wilkins will proceed down the river on Friday to bring up a large raft of logs. She will tow up 1,500,000 feet of lumber in logs, as follows: 600,000 for Smith Bros mill, and 900,000 feet for Holladay's mill.

TRANSFERRED —The locomotive James H Stephens, as soon as she is in proper condition to take the road, will be transferred to the Oregon Central Railroad. This locomotive will be employed in drawing the passenger train.

DISCHARGED —The Chinamen, Ah Gee and Ah Ching, who were arrested Thursday evening were examined before Justice Ryan, yesterday. The evidence being deemed insufficient, the defendants were discharged from custody.

DISCONTINUED —The Springville Postoffice has recently been discontinued. For the future, the mails will be delivered at the Portland Post office.

MILITARY MEETING

A military meeting was held at the Washington Guard's Armory last evening, pursuant to a call published in the daily papers. Capt Chas S Mills, of the Washington Guard, was elected Chairman, and A Bushuller Secretary. After the objects of the meeting were stated the following resolution was adopted:

WHEREAS, Our young and growing State has enjoyed a profound peace within its limits since its organization, it is nevertheless a well established principle that "a well regulated militia is necessary to the security of a free state" and

WHEREAS, Our military organizations are at present in an inefficient state for the reason of the deficiency in the present militia law, therefore be it

Resolved, By the officers and members of the Washington, Emmet, Montgomery Guards and Portland Light Battery, in meeting assembled, that the Honorable Legislature now in session at the Capital be respectfully requested to pass such necessary amendment to the present militia law as will conduce to the effective organization of the volunteer militia of this State, and that the Secretary be instructed to forward a copy of these resolutions to the Chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs in the Senate and House respectively, and to the Senators and Representatives from Multnomah county, and to the Brigadier General of this District.

AMUSEMENTS.

The large and spacious pavilion at the corner of B and Sixth streets, of Messrs. Thompson & Kingsley's grand circus combination, was crowded with hundreds of ladies and gentlemen last evening on the occasion of the first exhibition in the city. Portland is visited every year, and sometimes more often, with itinerating shows which advertise to perform much and which perform really nothing. In all candor, we can state that this circus combination is no catch penny affair. It is, without exaggeration, among the best companies that have ever given performances in the city. Every one who has not seen its exhibitions, should attend by all means. It is well worth the price of admission. The equestrianship, tumbling, acrobatic performances and gymnastic exercises, were never surpassed by any other circus which has yet visited the city. Each and every act is well performed. Want of space precludes a more extended notice, but as the company give exhibitions every night this week we would advise all to not fail and see them. We can heartily commend this company to the liberal patronage of the public.

PERSONAL

Yesterday we were the recipient of an agreeable surprise in the shape of a call from Mr. Fred P Stone, of the Publishing House of A L Bancroft & Co., of San Francisco. Mr Stone made many friends for himself and the house with which he is connected, on his former visits to this State.

We were favored yesterday with a call from Mr Frank S Chapin, Corresponding Agent of the Mining and Scientific Press, and the Pacific Rural Press, of San Francisco. Mr Chapin purposes to travel through the State, and correspond during the time with those journals. He will give the public his impressions, agriculturally and minor ologically, of Oregon.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Lively weather.

Steamer California will sail this afternoon.

Save time and trouble by procuring Leones for your canines.

The sensation drama of "Buffalo Bill" is having a run at Sacramento; or at least is severely run by the press critics.

Who struck Bill Patterson? has been asked for the last month; but none but never answered. The celebrated "Billy Patterson" now comes to the front by knocking down a man "out West" the other day, for which he was duly fined.

EF OUREANS will find at Stalls Nos 10 and 11 Central Market, a very choice lot of game fish and poultry. Quinn will continue to dispense all delicacies at the Union Market, Washington street, presides over the stalls and that is all that need be said to induce every one to call.

NO GENTLEMAN knowingly trusts an unskillful tailor with the get up of his clothes but looks those who are reliable in every way. In fashionableness of cut and neatness and durability of make up it is well known that the work of Fishel & Roberts corner of Washington and First streets, is unsurpassed. They are in receipt of a choice selection of fall goods and it is their forte to execute to those wishing the best to call. Boys clothing a specialty.

THEY HAVE 'EM —If you have made up your mind to array yourself in a new outfit and are desirous of getting the latest styles best goods and lowest prices you can not do better than call and select from the fresh importations which Mr Schaff has been buying in San Francisco for the house of J O'Neil & Co N 2 First str et. They have without doubt the finest goods ever offered to the public. Go in the windows; go further look. Inside. Comment is unnecessary.

Letter from Mrs Duniway.

SALEM Oregon, Oct 8, 1872

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I entered the railroad office in Portland this morning to purchase a ticket, and happening to have no coin with me, tendered the currency of the United States at the current rates. 'Can't take greenbacks' said the agent, 'don't receive them at any price.'

Then, said I, "you must wait till I come back from Salem. I haven't time now to go up town for coin."

With this I pocketed the ticket and left the office. The agent followed and, seizing me roughly by the arm as though I had been a thief, shook me and yelled, give me back that ticket!"

I could have felled the flapper little weakling to the earth with one slap from my open hand had I deigned to touch him, but, as it was, I borrowed the coin from Mr Mitchell, paid the fellow and came on to Salem.

Now, sir, had you or any brother desired to take that run to the Capital on important business, would that little soul have dared to insult you? I could have beaten the fellow to jelly with all ease, so the argument that woman's physical weakness is her protection, falls to the ground. That fellow took advantage of the legal argument, sir. Were I a voter like you or my brother I should, like you, have had passes on the road. And had I forgotten my pass, as I to day forgot to procure coin, my rights as an American citizen and publisher, proprietor and editor of an influential newspaper, would have been respected, without one word of parleying or one thought of insult.

That agent knew me well and had no excuse for his bullying conduct, except that as he was a voter and I was not, he held me at a disadvantage.

Again, is it not treason to refuse the currency of the United States? And does not the man who thus refuses sit, lay himself liable to prosecution in the United States Courts? Would Mr Holladay retain a clerk in his employ who had thus insulted you or Mr Scott, who always travel as dead heads—with your families, if you want to take them, and will he willingly allow a lady to be thus insulted who has paid him, in the past two years, five hundred dollars' traveling fees in her newspaper enterprises?

I respectfully submit these statements and questions to you as a voter and a citizen, and will you publish and oblige.

Yours, &c., A J DUNIWAY.

Defend Your Health.

The fall of the leaves not only emphasizes human decay but promotes it. In other words the effluvia from dying and rotting vegetation is unfavorable to health. To this and all or causes—especially excess of moisture in the atmosphere—may be ascribed the prevalence of acute disorders of the stomach bowels and liver at this season. Every person of bilious habit is liable to be very bilious in the fall. Then too, all persons whose digestion is weak and in no true or distinctly dyspeptic and individuals predisposed to colic diarrhœa and dysentery are particularly likely to be attacked by those complaints. The most complete defense against each and all of these diseases, ailments is by all odds, so far as known, to obtain this blessing in all its plenitude where it does not exist. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is earnestly recommended. It is the part of office of this preparation to reinforce and regulate the important organs which digest and temper the food and convert it into life sustaining blood. Bodily vigor depends upon the nourishing qualities of that fluid and the nutritiousness of the blood depends upon the functional activity and regularity which it is the great province of the Bitters to secure. Before it is the best defence of health at this season and indeed at all seasons. When dysentery diarrhœa bilious colic and other violent affections of the bowels become epidemic as they often do in certain parts of the country in the fall it will be found that persons who have been wise enough to resort to the Bitters as a preventive are almost invariably exempt from the scourge.

Encke's Comet

[From the N Y World]

Of all the comets which belong to our system none has attracted wider attention than that now universally known by the name of the great German astronomer, Encke. It will be remembered that it was first observed by Mr. Pons, at Marseilles, in 1818, though Encke afterward pointed out that it was doubtless the comet seen by Pons in 1805, by Miss Herschel in 1795, and by Mechain in 1786.

From the first announcement of the appearance of this comet by M Pons in 1818, Encke took a remarkable interest in it He calculated its orbit by Gauss' method, and predicted its return in 1822, though he thought it would not be visible in Europe Sure enough on the 3d of June in that year, the comet was seen near its calculated place from the observatory of Sir Thomas Brisbane, Governor of New South Wales It appeared again on October 30, 1828, and Encke was then able to fix its orbit as within that of Jupiter, its greatest distance being four times that of the earth, about 370,000,000 of miles, and its perihelion but one-third that of the earth, about 33,000,000 of miles. Encke discovered at the same time that the time of the transition of this body was being accelerated about two and a half hours per revolution. His explanation of this fact was that it passed through a resisting medium by which its motion was retarded. The elliptical orbit of a body moving in a resisting medium under the attraction of a body located in one of its foci, tends to lose its eccentricity and becomes circular. Its time of revolution will, therefore, be shortened. The fact of the acceleration of this comet's "year" has been admitted by every one, but many have doubted Encke's explanation of it.

Messrs. Asaph Hall and William Harkness, professors of mathematics in the United States navy, have lately published "Reports on Observations of Encke's Comet During its Return in 1871," which are full of interest both for astronomers and general readers Professor Hall observed the comet through the telescope, and he adds his testimony to that of previous observers on "the changes of form that this body undergoes as it approaches the sun and recedes from it. The general fact appears to be that there is a condensation in the matter of the comet and the formation of a nucleus as it approaches its perihelion and an expansion of the matter and disappearance of the nucleus as the comet recedes from the sun. * * * To an observer who sees such changes going on the question will naturally occur whether his determination of position made at different times and when the comet has such different forms are strictly comparable. It would appear that this should be carefully considered in any discussion of the motion of the comet." The professor also says that he has observed the comet at four returns, but has never seen it so faint as in 1871; considering its distance from the earth and sun.

Professor Harkness has submitted the wave-lengths of the lines of its spectrum to a mathematical analysis, and the result is thus stated by him: "The wave-length of the spectrum of Encke's comet are so nearly identical with those of comet II, 1868, (analyzed by Huggins,) as to render it almost certain that the differences between them are entirely due to the far from accurate methods employed in their determination. When, in addition to this great similarity in the general appearance of the two spectra is considered, it seems impossible to avoid concluding that they are absolutely identical. Hence it follows that the physical constitutions of the two comets are also identical; and, as Mr. Huggins has shown that comet II, 1868, is probably composed mainly of incandescent carbon in a gaseous state, we infer that Encke's comet is also composed of the same substance; at all events, my observations show that it gives a carbon spectrum exactly like that obtained from an electric spark taken in olefiant gas."

But the most interesting and important part of Professor Harkness's striking memoir is the chapter devoted to discussing the "density of Encke's supposed resisting medium in space." As far as we are aware this subject has never been treated in such a brief and thorough manner as here. We are sorry that we can not give our readers even a faint idea of the beautiful train of mathmetical reasoning by which the author proceeds from the known to the unknown. He passes in review the various estimates of the sun's heat, and gives very good reasons for thinking that they should all be cut down very largely. He says that "it does not seem possible that the sun can be hotter than the oxy hydrogen flame, the temperature of which, according to Bunsen, is about 2,844 deg. C. In view of this fact it is not likely that the temperature of this comet approached 5,000 F., but in order to be on the safe side he assumes its maximum temperature at 20,000 F. He then passes on to the consideration of the levity of the comets, and also gives his reasons for not thinking it as great as has been contended for. By Laplace's barometrical formula he calculates the pressure of the atmosphere at forty-five miles above the earth's surface as 276 divided by the sixth power of 10 of an inch of mercury, and at fifty miles as 16 divided by the fiftieth power of 10 of an inch of mercury." "Now, if in order to make the density of the resisting medium in space as small as possible, we suppose the comet to consist of gas at a temperature of 20,000 deg. F., and a pressure equivalent to that just found for this atmosphere at forty-five miles above the earth's surface, the formula already given (in the memoir of the author) will show that the mass of the comet must be 0,000,-000,004.37 of that of the earth. The diameter of a sphere of lead of the same weight is 10 21 miles, and the density of the resisting medium in space must be such as would support 196 divided by the twenty-first power of 10 of an inch of mercury. "It thus appears," says Professor Harkness, and this is a very important statement, "that with any value that can be reasonably deduced for the mass of the comet, the density for the resisting medium comes out enormously greater than that of the atmosphere at the upper limit of auroras. Hence there is some probability that the electric currents which give rise to auroras are propagated in a medium which pervades all space, and that the spectrum of the aurora is, in reality, the spectrum of space.

"Without going into any elaborate discussion on the subject of comets' tails, I would like to call attention to the fact that many circumstances seem to indicate that they are to a large extent an electrical phenomenon;" and he winds up by remarking that such a view would lead to the conclusion that no matter how much the physical constitutions of the heads of large comets may vary, their tails must all give spectra similar to the aurora, although additional lines may be present. If this conjecture be well founded — and there is strong antecedent probability in its favor—the existence of Encke's resisting medium in space

Several sailing vessels are due at this port from England and New York

The bark Almatea is in tow of the tug Fortune, and will probably arrive this evening

The steamer John L. Stephens, which arrived at port Tuesday evening, brought 617 tons of assorted cargo from San Francisco

As affecting the Money market on this coast the present season, it is a noticeable fact that a much larger amount of treasure has been exported than ever before in a proportionate time This coast, in its commercial statistics during the three quarters of the year now past, shows some unusual facts These are well stated in a commercial article from the San Francisco Alta, which estimates that "the amount of commerce, as indicated in the imports and exports, the number of vessels coming and going, the sum of the duties paid on imported goods, the freight value of the vessels arriving, and the increasing activity of the railroad traffic, has been greater than ever before. This increasing commerce has been attended by a growing stringency in the Money market, for the reason that such great increase in natural wealth demands greater capital to handle it. More money has been required to do a larger business, but as a part of that business has been the increased export of coin and bullion, which is coin material, the supply of coin has diminished at the moment when it was most wanted The excessional state of the New York market, where gold coin has borne very high rates, has tempted money dealers connected in New York to draw large amounts hence for employment in Wall street instead of ministering to the wants here Owing to the continued monetary stringency, we fail to observe any disposition to speculate in merchandise of any description Trade, however, is in a very healthy condition, and by reason of large crops and a very considerable surplus for export, our citizens one and all, feel hopeful and sanguine as to the future welfare of the Pacific slope At present we are only doing quite an active jobbing fall trade—the volume of goods passing into the interior in all directions is of considerable magnitude; payments are fair though not as good as we had hoped for, and yet we hear but few complaints of delay scarcely from any quarter

According to a recent San Francisco exchange, the current shipping rates from that port in a direct port in the United Kingdom are £5 10@5 12s 6d, to Cork, for orders, £1 15s Flour to Hongkong, per steamer, 75 per ton Passage for Coal and Lumber are scarce and wanted In fact, a large fleet of small vessels could find profitable employment on many outside voyages but for the want of them the business of this coast is very much hampered.

There seems yet to be no abatement in the tightness of our local money market and the indications of a general depression in business from this cause are not entirely wanting, though relief from our mines and grain surplus, it is thought, will yet come before the close of the season. The mines in Idaho and Eastern Oregon, according to all reports, have yielded at least an average return the past summer, though of their production it is an utter impossibility to give any exact statistical information Our grain crop, especially wheat, is coming in in liberal supply by wagons boats and rail, but under the circumstances now existing, shippers do not feel encouraged to buy largely at 75c per bushel, which is about the rates offered The vessels now out at this port from New York and England, if not all under charter prior to arrival, may, when they are ready for bargoing, cargoes, create more activity, but at present the inducement to deal in produce, except to supply the home market, is entirely wanting, as there are no extensive facilities for storing, and shipping at profitable rates cannot be secured at all.

Oats are in fair supply, with no changes to note as to prices. Best qualities now quoted at $1 30@$1 35 ₱ 100 lbs

Barley is in slight demand for home consumption, with rates firm at former quotation

Flour is firm at the figures given, with a full supply on hand for home use, but no considerable demand for shipments. Those have been light during the entire month

Potatoes are in abundant supply, this years crop being now fairly in the market, and as a general thing of better quality than was anticipated, the blight which prevailed in some quarters fortunately being quite limited in extent.

Cabbage, onions, and other vegetables in their season are plentiful, and prices are quoted moderate.

The Dry Goods trade is improving upon last week, and considerable sales have been made to retail dealers from the interior to fill up for the winter trade. In some articles there is a tendency to decline, more especially in woolen fabrics, which seem to be affected favorably for purchasers, by the great reduction all over the world in the price of the raw material. In cotton manufactures there is no perceptible weakening of rates, and advices from the cotton producing countries are unfavorable to any this season. The crop has hardly been an average one.

Business in our city so far during the week has not been discouraging, but taking everything into consideration, dealers are generally satisfied with their present circumstances, and entertain fair hopes of successfully getting through any apparent pressure which may now be upon them.

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

ADOPTED BY THE REPUBLICAN PARTY, IN CONVENTION AT PHILADELPHIA, JUNE 5, 1872.

The Republican Party of the United States assembled in National Convention in the city of Philadelphia, on the 5th and 6th days of June, 1872, again declares its faith, appeals to its history, and announces its position upon the questions before the country:

1. During the eleven years of its ascendancy it has accepted with grand courage the solemn duties of the time, has suppressed a gigantic rebellion, emancipated four millions of slaves, decreed the equal citizenship of all and established universal suffrage. Exhibiting unparalleled magnanimity in criminally punished no man for political offenses and has warmly welcomed all who proved their loyalty by obeying the laws and dealing justly with their neighbors. It inflicted a new policy toward the Indians; the Pacific Railroad and similar vast enterprises have been generously aided and successfully conducted to completion, the public lands have been freely given to actual settlers, immigration has been promoted and encouraged, and a full acknowledgment of the rights of naturalized citizens secured from European powers In the form of National currency, it has provided for the National credit and unified it under the questions before the country

2. During the eleven years of its ascendancy it has accepted with grand courage the solemn duties of the thing, has suppressed a gigantic rebellion, emancipated four millions of slaves, decreed the equal citizenship of all and established universal suffrage. Exhibiting unparalleled magnanimity in criminally punished no man for political offenses and has warmly welcomed all who proved their loyalty by obeying the laws and dealing justly with their neighbors It inflicted a new policy toward the Indians; the Pacific Railroad and similar vast enterprises have been generously aided and successfully conducted to completion, the public lands have been freely given to actual settlers, immigration has been promoted and encouraged, and a full acknowledgment of the rights of naturalized citizens secured from European powers In the form of National currency, it has provided for the National credit and unified it under the National system. The financial skill displayed in the conduct of the vast operations of the Treasury Department, and the marked success which has attended every financial measure adopted and recommended by it, have commanded the confidence of the country and the world. Under the present tariff system, based upon the principle of specific duties, sufficient revenue is collected to meet promptly the obligations of the Government, while the industries of the country have been developed, as never before. Despite the annual large reductions from the rate of taxation, the public debt has been reduced during the two Presidential terms at the rate of $100,000,000 per year. A great financial crisis has been averted, and peace and plenty prevail throughout the land Menacing foreign difficulties have been peacefully and honorably compromised, and the honor and power of the Nation kept in high position throughout the world. This glorious record of the past is the party's best pledge for the future, and we believe that the people will not entrust the government to any party or combination of men, composed of those who chiefly have resisted every step in this beneficial progress

2. Complete liberty and exact equality in the enjoyment of all civil, political and public rights should be established and effectually maintained throughout the Union by efficient laws, appropriate State and federal legislation Neither law nor its administration should admit of any discrimination in respect to citizens by reason of race, creed, color, or previous condition of servitude.

3. The recent amendments to the National Constitution should be cordially sustained because they are right, not merely tolerated because they are law, and should be carried out according to their spirit by appropriate legislation the enforcement of which can be safely trusted only to the party that secured the amendments.

4. The National Government seeks to maintain an honorable peace with all nations, protecting its citizens everywhere, and sympathizing with all peoples who strive for greater liberty

5. Any system of civil service under which the subordinate positions of the Government are considered rewards for mere party zeal, is fatally demoralizing, and we therefore favor a reform of the system, to be inaugurated by such laws as shall abolish the evils of patronage and make honesty, efficiency and fidelity the essential qualifications for public position, without practically creating a lifetenure of office

6. We are opposed to further grants of public lands to corporations and monopolists, and demand that the National domain be set apart for free settlement by the people

7. The annual revenue, after paying current debts, should furnish a moderate balance for the reduction of the principal of the public debt, and except so much as may be derived from a tax on tobacco and liquors, be raised by duties on importations, which should be adjusted so as to encourage remunerative wages to laborers, and to promote the industries and growth and prosperity of the whole country.

8. We hold in undying honor the soldiers and sailors whose valor saved the Union Their pensions are a sacred debt of the nation, and the widows and orphans of those who died for the country are entitled to the care of a generous and prolific people We favor such additional legislation as will extend the bounty of the Government to all our soldiers and sailors who were honorably discharged, and who in the time of duty became disabled, without regard to length of service or the cause of such disability.

9. The doctrine of Great Britain and other European powers concerning allegiance, once a subject always a subject, having at last, through the efforts of the Republican party, been abandoned, and the American idea of the right of a citizen to change his allegiance having been accepted by European nations, it is the duty of our Government to guard with jealous care the rights of adopted citizens against the assumption of unauthorized claims by their former governments, and to this end we demand that our treaties with all countries shall contain explicit provisions to this effect, and that such laws shall be enacted as will afford adequate protection to our citizens of foreign birth against wrongful acts committed by them in the form of naturalized citizens on their return to the countries of their birth, and that the same protection shall be afforded to our citizens by foreign governments.

10 The framing privilege ought to be abolished and a way proposed for reductions in the rates of postage.

11 Among the questions which the present attention is that which concerns the relations of capital and labor, and the Republican party recognize the duty of shaping legislation so as to secure a full protection and ample field for capital, and for the laborer, and to create, enlarge, the known opportunities and a just share of the mutual profits of these two great servants of civilization.

12 We hold that Congress and the President have only fulfilled an important duty in their measures for the suppression of the Ku-Klux organizations in certain lately rebellious regions and for the protection of the ballot, and therefore they are entitled to the thanks of the Nation.

13 We denounce the repudiation of public debts, in any form or degree, as a national crime. We witness with pride the reduction of the principal of that debt, and of the rates of interest upon the balance, and confidently expect that our excellent national currency will be perfected by a speedy resumption to specie payment.

14. The Republican party is mindful of its obligations to the loyal women of America for their noble devotion to the cause of freedom, their application for admission to further rights, and their earnest work with and beside us. The recent amendments to the National Constitution should be cordially sustained because they are right, not merely tolerated because they are law, and should be carried out according to their spirit by appropriate legislation the enforcement of which can be safely trusted only to the party that secured the amendments.

15 We hold it to be the duty of the General Government to adopt such measures as will tend to encourage American commerce and shipbuilding.

16. We believe that the modest patriotism, the earnest purpose, sound judgment, practical wisdom, incorruptible integrity and illustrious services of U. S. Grant have commended him to the heart of the American people, and with him at our head we start to-day on a new march to victory.
